

Expect 3,000 People At Dedication Of Hospital On Tuesday

Four Speakers On Program
Which Will Begin At 1:30
In Afternoon

BUILDING OPEN ON JULY 4

Principal Address At Dedication
Will Be Delivered By Bishop

Four speakers have been placed on the St. Elizabeth hospital dedication program which will begin promptly at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon and to which the public is cordially invited. The Rt. Rev. Paul P. Rhode, bishop of Green Bay, will make the principal address. He will be followed by Dr. G. A. Ritchie, P. J. Sensenbrenner of Neenah and J. P. Frank. The entire program will not exceed one hour, according to the plans, and the inspection of the new building will begin at 2:30. John Conway, chairman of the building committee will introduce the speakers.

The blessing of the hospital and the solemn high mass with which the program will be opened have not been made public affairs largely because of the lack of space in the chapel for more than the guests of the occasion. More than 40 clergy from the diocese will be present and with the hospital staff and those who have been active on committees for the building, the chapel will be filled to capacity.

CLUBWOMEN AS HOSTESSES
St. Elizabeth club will act as hostesses at the reception following the public program and will be ushers for the program. Members will be stationed throughout the building in order to explain the uses of the various rooms. The club also will serve the breakfast to the visiting clergy after the blessing ceremonies in the morning.

Mrs. John Conway and Mrs. A. J. McKay are the joint chairmen of the club's committee on decorations. While Mrs. Earl Douglas and Mrs. J. L. Wolf are chairmen of the breakfast committee. The lobby of the building will be decorated with flags and flowers. The full-length string quartet will play during the afternoon.

INSPECT BUILDING
"We want the people from all the nearby cities and from Appleton to see the hospital before the patients are moved in," said Mr. Conway. "We have made arrangements for a short program so that most of the afternoon will be given to the inspection of the building. It will be open to all for visitors but after that very stringent rules will be enforced for the patients' comfort and there will be no opportunity for people to be taken through the building."

The speakers platform will be placed at the main entrance of the hospital on the south side. Chairs will be placed on the driveways and the ushers will have charge of the seating. It is expected that between 2,000 and 4,000 people will be present at the program, while more than twice that number will go through the building in the two days.

No one will be allowed in the building on Tuesday until after the program has been completed. Details of the arrangements will be completed during the morning and the committee will take considerable time. All visitors will be asked to remain outside until the place is thrown open to the public officially. The committee and the sisters are most anxious that all who wish to see the building do so on the days arranged because in the larger building the visitors' rules will have to be more strict than in the smaller one.

OPEN ALL DAY JULY 4

On July 4, the guides will be stationed throughout the building from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning and from 2 to 6 in the afternoon. On Tuesday, the program will be started promptly at 1:30 and the reception at 2:30.

People who wish to furnish rooms in the hospital may make arrangements with John Conway or Mother Vita before Tuesday. Placards will be placed on the rooms which have been furnished by individuals or organizations until the bronze tablets for the doors can be made. Some of the Catholic lodges have already made arrangements for their rooms, but the privilege of furnishing is not limited in any way to Catholic organizations. Several people have expressed their intention of furnishing a room as a memorial to some departed member of their family.

As soon as the hospital is put at the disposal of the patients, the St. Elizabeth club free bed fund will also be available. More than $200 was cleared for the fund at the last card parties in the new hospital building. The amount in the fund will be announced in the near future.

YOUTH, 15, SLAYS HIS FOSTER MOTHER

Boy, Confesses, Frightened At
Hint Of Lynching—
Now In Jail

Springfield, Ill.—Ivan Wooten, 15 years old, has confessed slaying his foster mother Mrs. Mary Seales, 15, so he would be "free to see the world," police announced on Friday.

Authorities said the youth's admission came as a shock with bloodhounds prepared to search the country near Auburn for a tramp he previously said killed the woman.

Ivan is in jail here. Mrs. Seales was a wealthy landowner. She adopted the boy from the Edgar county home at Paris, Ill., three years ago.

Ivan confessed when he feared that possumen would turn into a mob and lynch him. Deputies William Dickerson and Jack Walsh said.

The two deputies led him to a window, and pointing out the mulling posse, suggested that a "lynching" was in prospect if the murderer were caught.

"I did it I did it," the youth sobbed, his face pale.

Immediately after Mrs. Seales' body was found, Ivan gave police and deputies a detailed description of the "tramp." After confessing, he admitted that he had planned the slaying for three days because his foster mother refused to let him go to work and travel.

WHITFIELD GOES ON HUNGER STRIKE
Alleged Mulatto Murderer Has Been Without Food For
87 Hours

By Associated Press
Cleveland, O.—John L. Whitfield, fasting in the county jail charged with the murder of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, refused drink as well as food Saturday morning.

At 9 o'clock he had gone 87 hours without eating and his guards reported the new information that since Thursday night he had declined even to drink water. Since breakfast time Saturday he had rejected also the black coffee that he had taken during his first two days in jail.

When his breakfast was brought to him Saturday morning, he refused to eat, leaving even the coffee untouched. The food is left with him at all times, one tray being removed when fresh food is brought in.

County Prosecutor Stanton said that forcible feeding was not contemplated at this time.

"If he doesn't want to eat, it's his own business," Stanton said. "I am worried. If the prisoner becomes very weak, jail officials said, a physician will be called to examine him and determine whether his condition demands forcible feeding."

2 KILLED, 3 HURT,
AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Escanaba, Mich.—Two dead and three injured was the toll taken when passenger train No. 216 on the Chicago Northwestern railroad struck and utterly demolished a touring car driven by William Bosnalt, of Maple Ridge, at West Gladstone, a flag station a few miles from here.

Anthony, 7 year old son of Fred Robins, a supervisor of Delta-co was instantly killed, and Bosnalt suffered a fractured skull which resulted in his death a few minutes later.

Alice, 22, sister of Anthony, suffered a fractured skull, broken leg and internal injuries. Mrs. Bosnalt and her three year old daughter were seriously injured.

Anthony and Alice Robins were waiting for the train at West Gladstone, when the Bosnalt's invited them to ride to Escanaba. They had gone but a few miles when, apparently not hearing the train's warning, they drove on the track in the path of the train.

STUDY WAY TO CUT CANAL TO STOP FLOODS

Riparian Owners Holding Important Meeting At Shiocton

Representatives of state and national governments are attending a meeting of riparian owners and farmers at Shiocton Saturday to consider the advisability of cutting through the proposed Duck Creek canal to drain lowlands along the Wolf river. John D. Mack, chief engineer for Wisconsin, delivered the keynote address, explaining the situation.

The purpose of the meeting apparently is to show that there is more danger from flood now than before the issuance of the Marshall order under which the flowage of water in the Fox river is regulated.

Other speakers on the program were A. J. Tipp, president of the Association for Relief From High Water, Congressman George J. Schneider and F. H. Colburn. Short talks were given by a number of farmers. The meeting is expected to continue until late in the afternoon.

4 KILLED, 4 HURT ON U. S. WARSHIP

By Associated Press
Newport, R. I.—Four men were killed and four injured, three probably fatally, when they were trapped in escaping steam and hot water in the fire room of the destroyer Williamson, in Narragansett Bay Saturday. All were members of the fire crew.

The cover to the hood of the lower ventilator which carries the heated air from a fire room, naval officials said, was closed in some manner not yet known. The sudden pressure of air set the blower to racing and when the governor failed to control it by shutting off the steam the blower exploded. The force of the explosion broke the water feed line and the steam line in the fire room, which was left almost without air and filled with steam. The lack of air also caused a flare back from the furnace. The eight men could not escape and it is believed that the four men who were killed, died almost instantly.

NINE INJURED

Philadelphia, Pa.—Nine sailors were injured this afternoon in an explosion on the Scout Cruiser Richmond at the Philadelphia Navy yards. The men were taken to the navy yard hospital. All were said to be badly burned.

WESTERN TRIP CHANGES IDEAS OF PRESIDENT

Harding Swings Over To Wilson
View On America's Part
In World War

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923 By The Post Pub. Co.
Enroute With President Harding—What possible connection can there be between taxation and hyphenated Americanism? What has prohibition, law enforcement, and "lawless drinking" got to do with the world court?

Maybe the people who have been reading President Harding's speeches have wondered at the sudden transition, in some of the prepared addresses from the main theme to what may seem to be extraneous topics.

The answer is that Mr. Harding has been accumulating thoughts on a number of different subjects in the last two years that he has been confined to the White House and he has planned to use the first occasion that presented itself to emphasize the points that have occurred to him.

Some of the interpolated paragraphs are not prefaced by any explanation as to the reasons prompting the president to discuss them. As an example, take the last paragraph of the speech on taxation which without any introduction to the subject of hyphenated Americanism reads as follows:

UNITED BY WAR
"War brought us the lesson that we had not been so American in spirit as we had been in pride. Some of our adopted citizenship were the habilitments of America, but were not consecrated in soul. Some to whom we have given all the advantages of American citizenship would destroy the very institutions under which they have accepted our hospitality. Hence our commitment to the necessary Americanization which is the only way to the American Legion, baptized anew in the supreme test on foreign battlefields, is playing its splendid part. Those who bore war's burdens at home have joined, and all America must fully participate. It is not enough to enlist the sincere allegiance of those who come to accept our citizenship; we must make sure for ourselves, for all of us, that we are clinging to the fundamentals, to the practices which enabled us to build so successfully, and avoid the errors which tend to impair our vigor and belaud the future."

HARDING'S FORMER VIEW
Another and even more abrupt turn in one of the president's speeches on the subject of taxation, which was made to the audience at Denver from a sermon on drinking to some added thoughts on the world court which apparently the president did not feel that he had covered adequately at St. Louis. Because of the greater emphasis given prohibition that day by the president, a very pointed reference to the world court has an interesting background was not stressed. To understand its significance, one must remember that Mr. Harding as a senator voted for America's declaration of war against Germany not because of the slogan of a war for democracy or humanity, but because of a conviction which he expressed in his own words, namely, the defense of American rights on the high seas. He didn't admit the broader aspects of civilization's challenge to be controlling. Here is the viewpoint he holds today:

CHANGED OPINION
"The World war was a frightful calamity, from which the earth will never be fully recovered in a century to come. Nearly five years have passed and peace is not yet secure. Our own cost was beyond an understandable appraisal, but I sometimes feel it was worth much of its cost, because it brought an American awakening and revealed the soul of the republic and the character of its supreme commitment. We saw our America ready to do or die for our concept of civilization and its ennobling. It exalted us and made us a better, a more patriotically devoted people. I would like to go on, with soul aflame, in eagerness to aid humankind while promoting security for ourselves."

This is more in line with the Wilsonian concept of the reasons for America's entry into the war than anything Mr. Harding has said since he voted for war and it is in contrast to what Ambassador Harvey said in one of his speeches in Britain, namely, that America didn't enter the war for humanity or to save her soul, but for primary reasons of selfish security.

Aliens Wait For Entry In Land Of Free

By Associated Press
New York—Sixteen steamships, their rails lined with 7,000 aliens who have forsaken their homelands, rode at anchor outside Ambrose lightship Saturday, waiting for the stroke of midnight to dash for quarantine with admittance to the United States of their immigrant passengers as their goal.

Heartbreaking scenes are expected by immigration officials as many of the immigrants who hope to gain entry to America under the July quotas of their respective countries face deportation because of the excessive numbers seeking admission.

Twenty steamships that will enter this port Sunday and Monday. Most of them are immigrants.

The midnight race will be timed by three official watches so that there will be no dispute about the first to reach quarantine. One watch will be kept by the postal telegraph, another by Western Union, and the third by Ellis Island officials.

Many aliens on slow vessels still steam for the Atlantic coast, but they will be sent back to Europe without charge on the steamships that brought them.

ALASKA BOUND PARTY VISITS WYOMING PARK

Harding Welcomed With Duplicate Of Marion "Star" At Gardiner Gateway

By Associated Press
Gardiner Gateway, Mont.—Arriving in Gardiner about 7 o'clock Saturday morning, President and Mrs. Harding and their party immediately went into Yellowstone National park for a two days' visit. The party went into the park at the northern entrance and had breakfast inside the play ground.

Most of the two days will be devoted to motoring about the park in much the same manner as the thousands of other American citizens who visit the places each season.

Secretary Work of the interior department, who has charge of the national parks, has been trying to persuade the president to do some trout fishing while in the park, but Mr. Harding isn't generally regarded as much of a fisherman and it is doubtful whether he will try his luck with the fly. Extensive preparations are reported to have been made by the national park service for the visit of the president and Mrs. Harding.

The program of the day called for an inspection of the buffalo and elk herds and visits to the mammoth hot springs and the upper geyser basin.

When the president descended the steps here he received a pleasant surprise in a copy of this morning's edition of the "Livingston Montana's Enterprise" containing on first page, a duplicate of the first page of Friday's Marion Ohio "Star."

ROLE OF AVENGING FATE

Freeport, Ill.—Clarence Frush, a member of the Freeport police force, was shot and killed by an unidentified tramp whom he had arrested at the Illinois Central depot here late Friday afternoon. Then the tramp, in attempting to escape on the officer's motorcycle, crashed into a curbing and broke his neck.

There was nothing on the person of the desperado to supply a clue to his identity.

He is said by the police to bear a close resemblance to the photograph of Tony Massud, 19 year old, wanted in St. Louis for the murder of a policeman.

HARDING BACKS UNION LABOR IN HELENA SPEECH

America Has Made Better Showing After War Than Any Other Nation

By Associated Press
Helena, Montana—President Harding declared here Friday night that those who imagined his administration would sympathize with projects for "the deflation of labor and the overthrow of labor organizations" have only "realized their error."

Nothing has been farther from the purpose of the present administration," he said in the tenth prepared address of his Western trip, an address devoted to the discussion of labor, social justice, and women in industry.

The president said what his administration had "realized" is that the occasion for conflict between capital and labor and to bring to both a realization of the obligation they owe "to the great public interest."

Quite frankly the executive stated that he knew there were some elements which had hoped for "a great and decisive conflict" between organized employers and organized labor, and that these elements were not all on either side of the "imaginary dividing line" between capital and labor.

"On the capital side of the line," he said, "were those who hoped that the administration would aid itself to their program of breaking down organized labor and sending it back to the era of individual bargaining for the individual job. On the labor side of the line were those who hoped, by exorbitant demands and an attitude of uncompromising insistence, to force the nationalization of some of our most important industries and services."

Between these two extreme groups we have tried to hold the scales even.

"We have come thus far, and thus fortunately, through the most difficult period of reconstruction that we have ever known. We have been sheltered against the world storm of tendency to social revolution. The best test of policy is by its results. By that test, we ask no more than a fair and reasoned verdict on our program. We ask that its results be compared with the showing, in these after-war years, than can be presented by any other country on the face of the earth."

A large part of Mr. Harding's address was devoted to discussing the change in the relation of woman to the social and political organization. The president said he was one of those "old-fashioned" people who would be glad if the way could be found to maintain the traditional relations of father, mother, children and home, but that very plainly these relations are in process of a "great modification."

TIME BOMB BURSTS, KILLS 9 BELGIANS

By Associated Press
Duesseldorf—Nine Belgian soldiers were killed Saturday by the explosion of a time bomb in a passenger car of a train carrying Belgian soldiers on leave back to Belgium from the Ruhr.

Between 25 and thirty soldiers are wounded. The explosion is regarded in military circles here as the German reply to the stiffening of the occupation regulations in the Belgian zone since the killing of two Belgian soldiers at Marl several days ago and is thought to have been carried out by the same organization that arranged the explosion that killed two Germans in the waiting room of the Wiesbaden railway station this week.

The explosion occurred as the train was crossing the Rhine. It demolished the car, killing or badly wounding the man in it, and mortally injuring the sentinels who were guarding the bridge. He was struck by a fragment of iron.

Lower House Kills Old Age Pension Bill

G. O. P. Leader
Says Henry Is Mere Gold Bag

By Associated Press
New York—Election to the presidency of Henry Ford, a "mere bag of gold," would be bowing down to Mammon, Charles D. Killes, Republican national committeeman from New York declares in a statement printed by the New York World Saturday.

"Ford does not strike the Mussolini note or the Trotsky note. He does not strike any note in consonance with contemporary liberalism. He has shown amazing ignorance of national psychology and of political problems. His attitude towards public affairs is un-American. He boasts of his bigotry."

"Ford would make a pitiable spectacle as president because he has revealed a political knowledge and sense that a schoolboy would be ashamed of. And it is Mr. Ford who asserted that all history is mere bunk. Henry Ford is said to be the richest man in the world. It is part of our Americanism to begrudge no man his wealth if he made it honestly and in service. But if we place at the head of the nation, to speak for us before the world, a mere bag of gold, who knows nothing about anything except making automobiles, we shall have done to Mammon deed," and the democracy of Washington and Lincoln will degenerate into failure.

LABOR PARTY WOULD OUST BRITISH KING
Friday Conference Told Royal Family No Longer Essential To Country

London—Attention to the effect that "the royal family no longer is necessary part of the British constitution," was introduced in the labor party conference here on Friday by a delegation from Middleboro.

The motion called upon the labor party to state definitely its views on this matter.

PLAN EMPIRE RILE
Simultaneously with the announcement of plans for increased labor organizations in order to carry out their promise of "a labor cabinet in 1926," the labor party passed resolutions declaring that "the capital levy is the keystone of labor's entire future policy."

Britain faces two prospects—first, that labor intends to get into power within three years, and secondly, that the moment labor gets in it will confiscate "undue" wealth.

Conviction of ultimate success was the tone of the labor party resolutions. Arthur Henderson announced the party would inaugurate a special election fund to be used in poorer constituencies as part of the political program that calls for increased spread of the organization through Britain.

FIGHT AIR PROGRAM
Henderson declared that now political groups center on two creeds—labor versus both the conservatives and liberals.

The next step toward winning a labor cabinet for Britain is to be the capture of the rural and semi-rural districts, he said.

The conference passed the resolution proposed by George Lansbury demanding that labor members in parliament oppose the increase in the royal air force, and dubbing it "the preface to a new era of war" and "a crime against humanity."

Garey Measure Defeated In Assembly In Spite Of Socialists' Efforts

DEADLOCK IN LEGISLATURE

Surtax Amendments On Appropriations Tie Up Business—
Adjournment Postponed

By Associated Press
Madison—The Garey old age pension bill was killed by the assembly Saturday 45 to 22, notwithstanding efforts of Socialists members to save it. The assembly previously attached an amendment by Nelson of Polk-co providing for financing the pension with a surtax. The assembly passed the bill to third reading Friday but reconsidered that action Saturday. The senate passed the bill Friday, 14 to 13.

SURTAX DEADLOCK
A deadlock between the senate and assembly over income surtax amendments to large appropriation bills tied up business in the legislature Saturday, with the prospect that adjournment will be impossible before Monday.

Senators Saturday were trying to reach an agreement to recess over the week end, coming back again to clear decks before July 4. Inability of conference committees to work out acceptable reports on surtax proposals was given as the reason for delay.

When senate and assembly conference committees on the Schumann bill appropriating $1,000 for tuberculosis eradication, were unable to agree on a surtax amendment, the senate killed the bill but revived it to give one last chance for attempted agreement.

Surtax amendments to the university and normal school bills are scheduled to be killed in the senate. Conservative senators having a majority against the various attempts to attach surtax proposals claim that they will not compromise on the issue.

The senate attitude taken by the assembly indicates a deadlock that may result in failure to appropriate funds for the university and normal school. These institutions have continuing appropriations and would not be closed by failure of new grants of funds.

AGREE ON PARK BILL
The senate last night agreed to an income surtax amendment to the northern lakes park bill and sent the measure to Governor Blaine. This measure appropriates $200,000 for purchase of 5,000 acres of virgin timber in Price and Sawyer counties for a state park. A similar measure was vetoed by the governor two years ago.

NEED TRUCKS FOR TRIP TO ONAWAY

The distance between Waupaca and Appleton is beginning to seem pretty big to camp fire girls and girl scouts since they cannot use the boy scout truck to transport their baggage to Onaway island. The boy scouts are planning a trip for the first two weeks in August and their truck will be in use.

It is hoped that the services of two trucks will be offered to the girls since the transportation would amount to about $50, an additional 75 cents or dollar for each camper. Since most of the girls are earning their own money for their camping expenses, that seems like a great deal of money. An effort is also being made to have parents of the girls offer to take them in their cars to camp.

More than 165 girls have signed up to camp where the boy scouts usually go. Accommodations can be made for 140 girls if more register within a short time. Anyone who has either an automobile or a truck to offer for Aug. 3 will be assured of a hearty welcome if he will notify Appleton Womens clubroom.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilcox and son, Thomas, of Green Bay spent Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kox, 460 Atlantic-st.

Miss Myrtle Dayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dayton, and Alice Dombroski, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Dombroski, Menasha were married at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. A. Clifford in St. Patrick church in Menasha. The attendants were Miss Ivy Klesner and Frank Karsten. A dinner was served to about 50 persons. Mr. and Mrs. Dombroski left for an automobile trip to Milwaukee and Chicago after which they will be at home in Menasha.

Era Of Wheels Will Have A Profound Business Affect

Babson Declares That Only The Future Can Tell How Man Will Adjust Himself To New Condition

Albany, N. Y.—Roger W. Babson was asked what is the greatest factor with which the banker, manufacturer and merchant must reckon during the next 20 years. He at once answered "automobiles." His complete statement is as follows:

"We all marvel at the great growth of the automobile industry, the capital invested, the men employed, and the auxiliary lines which have developed on account of automobiles. Some of us try to figure out this capital and these men would be doing today if it were not for automobiles—how many more homes there would be—how much more railroad mileage, etc. Very few, however, have realized that automobiles are entirely changing the fundamental character of our children and this in turn may revolutionize many industries."

WORK ON WHEELS

"When we were children a ten mile drive was a considerable trip. A hundred and fifty miles was a great journey for which we would prepare for weeks. Many of us never traveled that far until we were grown up. Today, however, the situation is very different. Young children will go a hundred and fifty miles for a Sunday drive. Our young people use automobiles to go to the store, and to go to church. It has become a necessity. We are raising a generation which will actually work and play on wheels."

"This cannot help but develop certain industries and harm others. At present the automobile is greatly helping the building industry because of the millions of people moving from the cities to the suburbs and country. After, however, this exodus has been completed, the building industry will fall flat? Why?—because instead of a young married couple now saving for a little home—they save for a car—or rather they buy a car on credit. Less money will be spent upon clothing than otherwise could be, and different kind of clothing will be in demand. New diseases will develop and a change to diet will be necessary. A generation on wheels must eat much more fruit and fresh vegetables than a generation which walks."

SHOE DEALERS SUFFER

"Every business man should study this problem and ask himself how his business will be affected when a generation lives which almost never walks. The road builders will greatly benefit, but the shoe dealers must suffer. With a given population less is produced by a generation on wheels than by a former generation which did not know the automobiles. If less is produced, there will be less to do with it. This means that many people must go without other things if they insist on having automobiles, and my guess is that they will do so."

"I believe in the permanence of the automobile industry—although of course, many small manufacturers will be crowded out and 1924 may see an over-production of cars. The industry as a whole, however, is stable and is here to stay. The difficulty is coming when the man who now buys on credit and assesses his employer to pay the bill can no longer do this. Most industries will stand such an assessment once, but very few in industries can stand such an assessment continually. The laborer whom you are now paying $25 a week can lay his first car and can assess you to pay for it by demanding $70 per week instead of $25. But can he assess you for his second or third car, and can his children do the same thing? Frankly, I do not know. Only the future can tell."

"The automobile industry is largely responsible for the condition of business today. The fact that the Babsonian stands at 1 per cent above normal companies with 17 per cent below a year ago is due largely to the automobile industry. When one considers that during the first six months of 1923 most states will show as many new registrations as during all of 1922—it is remarkable that business has not boomed more. The only answer is that people have bought automobiles instead of buying something else—that is, the sales of other things have fallen off correspondingly. The law of action and reaction is absolute. Now what will be the reaction of a new generation which knows not the joy of walking?"

USERS OF ELECTRIC LIGHT ALL WILL BE RADIO FANS SOON

Utility Company Has Device Like Telephone To Install In Homes

By Associated Press
New York—Get ready for the flow of radio.

It is promised to all electric light users and there are millions of these—through the purchase by the North American company of this city of the "wired wireless" system invented by Max G. George O. Squier chief signal officer of the U. S. A.

The North American Company is a holding corporation for electric illuminating and street railway companies in various cities of the country. Purchase of control of the "wired wireless" invention and development of a system of broadcasting throughout the country, it is said here, will involve an outlay of some $60,000,000 before any subscriber reaps benefit from it.

General Squier's invention obviates the use of overhead antenna, ground wires and batteries, employing instead a plug for connection with the electric lighting system. Besides carrying the lighting and power current, the wires will be charged with "carrier currents" of different wave lengths so that radio messages may be sent over them without interfering with or being disturbed by the light and power current.

PLANS READY

In their experiments with this system last summer, officials of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company and others obtained a high degree of success. But one essential reason caused them to postpone adoption of the plan. That was:

The problem of obtaining revenue for wired wireless concerts was still unsolved.

A solution has been found and with it the North American Company has announced its plans to proceed with the sale of instruments and the broadcast of music from central control stations. The receiving instruments consist of a crystal or vacuum tube receiver that is a little larger than the ordinary desk telephone. On it is a dial to permit switching from one wave length to another.

Each ascribed wave length will have its own form of education or entertainment. So that the subscriber will know how to turn the dial for the specific kind of entertainment he wants.

METER KEEPS TAB

These instruments will be sold to subscribers on the installment plan and their use will be charged for on the regular monthly electric lighting bill. The electric meter will keep tab on the use of the instrument.

Only those using these special instruments will be able to listen in on the "wired wireless" concerts. The reason is the central broadcasting station from which the programs will be broadcast will be connected directly with the electric lighting systems of the country. That is, they will not use any form of aerials such as are in use by the regular broadcasters of today.

That will keep regular radio amateurs and other listeners from tuning in on the wired wireless concerts. And even if they do develop their instruments so that they can tune in, their use to the new system will be charged to them on their next month's electric lighting bill.

Insurance Men Meet

Three local agents of New England Mutual Life Insurance company were guests of William B. Marshutz of Boston at dinner at Conway hotel Thursday. They were H. D. Little, district manager, V. S. Fennell and Burton Smith. Insurance matters were discussed and plans made for a convention of valley agents here next fall.

Miss Ada Schulz left Saturday for Kewaskum, where she will spend the weekend with her parents.

LUMBER MOVING AGAIN—AFTER A BRIEF LET DOWN

Dealers Loading Up To Be Prepared During Car Shortage Period

The improvement noted in softwood trade last week has continued, and though current business is not active, it is a good deal more so than at the beginning of this month, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. One reason for the recent improvement is that retail yards after the very active trade they have enjoyed this spring and so far this summer, have reduced stocks to a point where replenishment has become necessary. Another reason is that many firms a more or less severe car shortage when crops begin moving, and are beginning to place orders for fall needs in order to escape delivery troubles later on. Wholesale yards state that the retail yard situation practically guarantees that the trend of mill sales will be upward from now on, with a heavy volume of business likely within another few weeks. County yards are poorly stocked as a rule, and as the outlook for farm trade is good in many sections, these will undoubtedly come in to the market during the next month or six weeks.

Industrial trade in southern pine continues to be featured by a big demand for lumbers and special cuttings for railroad and construction uses. The oil fields are still quiet. Export demand has dropped off somewhat, but there is enough of this class of business booked to keep mills busy for some time. Douglas fir exports are well maintained, and these, together with the California and unusually brisk local markets, keep the west coast industry active. Prices on both southern pine and Douglas fir showed notable changes this week. The tendency appears to be towards a firming up of the market, following the material reductions which recent falls have featured all softwoods.

Hardwood trade continues to mend but remains spotty. A fair volume of business is obtained from railroads, building material, agricultural implements, vehicle and musical instrument interests, as well as from box and crating makers and miscellaneous consumers, but the market will not be really active before the furniture and automobile industries reenter it, as they undoubtedly will soon. Prices are stabilizing around present levels and are generally expected to advance in the fall.

CHINESE UPHOLDS NATIONAL REPUTE

By Associated Press
Shanghai—Charges voiced in an address by John Johnstone, head of one of the oldest and what has been held to be the largest foreign commercial houses in China, Jardine, Matheson and Company, that Chinese business morality in the present age is growing decadent, and that the modern Chinese business man has fallen away from the old idea of Chinese honesty, has brought a reply from H. Y. Moh, who is perhaps the leader among the Chinese cotton magnates.

Mr. Moh declares that Chinese business morals have not deteriorated but in all responsible quarters, have been kept to the high plane they always have enjoyed. The fault, he said, was with the foreign merchant in choosing more or less at random those with whom he dealt, and in failing to investigate properly the characters of newcomers in the business world.

America's Santa Claus Has Grown Rapidly In 3 Years

Toy Company Of America Has Won National Reputation In Few Years Of Its Existence

One of Appleton's newest and most rapidly growing institutions is the Toy Company of America, manufacturers of playthings and juvenile furniture.

Established in September, 1920, and commencing with the manufacture of the lone product, the "Rockafellano," a combination rocking horse, kiddie car and imitation airplane, the company has constantly increased its production until its products, listed under the familiar trademark, "America's Santa Claus," have become known all over the United States.

The company was organized under the leadership of Fred P. Weltengel who still retains a heavy though less active interest in the company. C. L. Wright, its president, and Allan B. Ellis.

INCREASED PRODUCTION

Although the company was started on a small scale with the manufacture of one product, it has been forced to increase its capacity gradually to keep up with the market demands. A big colored catalog photographed in the familiar ivory, pink and blue colors advertise its many products far and wide.

The company numbers among its products a complete line of wooden toys, such as cars, doll furniture, tumbling animals. Many of these articles are reproduced in larger sizes. Its line of juvenile furniture including everything from kitchen to bedroom fixtures, in addition to larger kitchen and kitchenette furniture, tea tables, writing desks, chests, chairs, etc., are in special demand.

Its furniture is of a very high grade and quality and would, but for its extremely method of production, net fabulous prices. All articles are hand carved and some are in the delicate tints of ivory, pink, blue and white.

ARTISTIC DECORATION

The crowning stroke in the beautiful finish of the articles furnished for the market is the distinctive way of decorating them. The decorating instead of being machine or stencil work is all done by hand. For the hand painting has been so systematized for purposes of production, that the cost of this work as well as of the whole finished product has been greatly reduced. The hand decorating, though increasing the appearance of the article, has been made a minor part of the expense of production.

The beautiful enameled finish of the articles made is the result of a spraying process. Fine sprays of enamel paint more smoothly than if the work were done by hand. It also speeds the production by doing the work of 15 men. Several coats of enamel are applied to the articles.

Greatest of care is used in packing the furniture. Each article must be perfect in workmanship and finish before it is placed in the case. It is carefully wrapped in waxed paper and then padded with excelsior. Complaints as to poor packing are few.

NATIONAL REPUTATION

In the three years of its history the company has established a national reputation, and its products are in demand at some of the largest and most exclusive mercantile houses in the country.

Sales offices and display rooms have been opened by the Toy Company of America in San Francisco, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Boston, Grand Rapids, Mich. and Montreal, Canada. More than 25 per cent of the patronage once built up by the company comes back the next season. The first year's sales of the company probably will be quadrupled this year. Already the Toy company has three times more orders in the first six months of this year than it had in the corresponding period of the year previous. The company is considerably behind its orders and has many for future delivery. Prices as advertised in the catalog this year are not more than 10 to 15 per cent higher on most items. Full production will be renewed on July 1.

$150,000 INVESTED

All toys and furniture are advertised under the trademark consisting of a red, white and blue shield bearing the name and address of the company and the slogan "America's Santa Claus."

The company's investment represents an outlay of about $150,000. On the latest and highest type of machinery is used in the manufacture. They are all built for heavy duty, so that other lines of production may be made, should the company desire to branch in other directions. Two trucks haul the products from factory to place of shipment, and two warehouses in Appleton store articles for future delivery.

A part of the buildings and offices of the Graef Manufacturing company are used; this company cooperates closely with the Toy company. Yet the toy industry is greatly handicapped for lack of space and the necessary railroad trackage facilities. The dry kilns of the Graef Manufacturing company also are used at a minor charge. It is only a question of time, however, when the company will have to have a factory of its own.

NEARLY 100 EMPLOYED

The company now employs an efficient sales organization. It also maintains a force of high class skilled help. During the peak of production as many as 92 persons have been employed at one time. The company has been instrumental in bringing desirable residents to this city, and a number of them have built their own homes.

The present officers of this growing industry are C. L. Wright, president; Paul Abendroth, vice president; R. O. Kuehnstedt, secretary; Frank Groh, treasurer. Besides the aforementioned officers are Herman F. Hecker, Appleton; F. B. Whiting, Neenah; W. P. Teare, Winona, Minn.

Where would we be anyway if it weren't for advertising?

What a lot of time advertising saves us! We need something. We see it advertised. And we go straight from where we are now to where the article is sold.

Have you ever gone around from place to place seeking for something which you knew existed but which nobody else seemed to know anything about, not even the storekeepers?

You have wasted an hour, maybe several hours, possibly half a day. You have worn out your patience, and before the end of the quest probably you began to figure that the thing which you sought was not, after all, so good as you thought it was, otherwise other people besides yourself would know something about it.

The manufacturer who advertises, invests his money, therefore, not alone to tell of the merits of his goods but to save you time. The manufacturer who is willing to pay for advertising space in newspapers in order to point out to you where his merchandise is sold, so that you may get there quicker and buy it easier, is not going to skimp or cheat in manufacturing it.

After going to all the trouble and expense of telling you just where you may find it, he is going to see to it that when you buy it, it is good enough so that you will buy it again.

And in making up your mind about merchandise which is advertised, consider this last thought—the manufacturer can well afford to make it as good as it can be made because one sale means hundreds, even thousands of others following naturally and costing him nothing extra.

QUARRY BLAST COMPLAINT IS BEFORE COUNCIL

Island Residents Protest Blasting By Kaukauna Quarry Company

Kaukauna—Whether the Kaukauna Quarry Co. will be forced to go out of business or will be given a chance to blast rock with dynamite in such quantities that there will be no danger to property on the island will be decided by the committee on public grounds and buildings of the common council. At a special meeting of the council Friday evening in the council rooms the question was brought up after complaints by a delegation of property owners and residents of the island who said that the especially heavy blast last week did considerable damage.

M. H. Niesen, a member of the quarry company, was present at the council meeting and gave his explanation of events which led up to the blast. The company had been doing only light shooting, he said, until a representative of a powder company attempted to demonstrate how heavy charges of powder might be exploded without damage. Mr. Niesen said that unless he is permitted to do light blasting, using not more than 100 pounds of explosives, it will be necessary to dislodge the 17 men now in his employ and go out of business. Mr. Niesen appeared confident that by limiting the size of his charges he will be able to continue operation of the quarry without endangering the property or lives of people on the island.

Members of the island delegation said there had been trouble with the company even before it passed into the hands of its present owners. Upon inquiry officials of the city revealed that the blast might damage the city water supply and reservoir, endangering the fire protection of the community.

It is probable a suitable arrangement will be made between the committee on public grounds and buildings and the quarry company that will be satisfactory to all. A report on the matter will be given next Tuesday at the regular monthly meeting of the council.

Those who were granted class "A" permits to operate soft drink emporiums and restaurants are W. J. Lamie, William Cech, Jacob Miller, Martin VanRoy, George West, A. J. Lemke, Paul H. Pangel, Fred Reichel, George Jerse, Joseph Gerts, Jacob H. Licht, Jr., John N. Heinz, F. C. Pahl, John Schermitzler, R. Roberts, Ernest Robach, E. Bebat, Bertha Kromer, Cornelia Vanable and William Jirikovic. Permit was granted to Mr. Jirikovic upon vote of the council after members of the license committee failed to agree. After a hot discussion the council voted 9 to 1 in favor of granting the license. Alderman W. H. Cooper, who is a member of the committee on licenses, maintained that a permit should not be granted because of numerous complaints which have been received from people in the neighborhood.

Alderman Cooper told the council conditions prevailing in connection with the place of business as they have been reported to him.

A Complete Institution

The last few years have brought about a completeness in Funeral Directing but little realized by the general public.

Beautiful buildings have replaced less desirable former quarters. The finest and most modern equipment has been added for reverently and perfectly caring for those just departed this life, and for making more precious and sacred the memory of those rites attending that period.

The Beyer Funeral Home has become noted far and wide—in building, personnel, and equipment—for having almost attained the ideal in these many respects. As such it merits the patronage of everyone in Appleton and the country we serve whenever in need of one of our profession.

The literal truth is that the good Maxwell gives more for the money than the public has been accustomed to getting. That is why its success is so striking and so sound.

CONDENSERY AT NEW LONDON SETS WORLD'S RECORD

Borden Company's Plant Receives 345,000 Pounds Of Milk In One Day

New London—It has been learned by actual test that the New London Borden's condensing factory exceeds any other factory in the world for the amount of fluid milk received and canned for the market. In a single day the receiving room showed an intake of over 345,000 lbs. of milk, or enough when condensed to completely fill four large freight cars, and requiring sixty big trucks to haul the load. The day's output was a record breaking one. The average daily run of the local concern is about 200,000 lbs. The Borden company is making many improvements in this and near by factories in the way of machinery. A second concentrating plant is being installed at the factory at Black Creek and a new vacuum pump set in position at the plant at Greenfield. Two new boilers will be installed at the latter plant to increase the power facilities.

A Buick Closed Car
Built for Summer Driving

The Buick Six Cylinder Touring Sedan is particularly popular because it combines perfectly the many advantages of the open touring model with the luxury and convenience of a fine closed car.

The wide windows provide touring car airiness; yet in case of a summer shower or dust storm, a turn of the hand instantly protects the occupants without obstructing their vision.

Buick traditional performance, power, dependability and riding comfort are worthily typified in this Touring Sedan.

"EVERY YEAR IS A BUICK YEAR"

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

On the morning of Gray's coming, he rode with Buddy over to thirty-five. It was a wretched, rainy day and nothing is more bleak than a rainy day in a drilling camp. Work had been halted and the men were loafing in their bunk house. Brother and sister spent the impatient hours in the mess tent.

Gray's trip from the railroad was more like a voyage than a motor journey, for the creek beds, usually dry, were angry torrents, and the "dole" flats were quivering through which his vehicle plaved hub deep nevertheless, he was fresh and alert when he arrived. After a buoyant greeting to Allie, he and Buddy inspected the well, then he issued orders for work to be resumed.

Word had gone forth that there was something doing on thirty-five and from the channel emerged a ruddy motor car bringing some of the neighboring lease owners and even the members of a nearby casing crew.

Supper was a jumpy meal and no body had much to say. Allie Briskow east of all. She was silent, intense, she curtly refused Buddy's offer to send her home, and when the meal was over she followed Gray back to the derrick.

Buddy Briskow was running the rig, and the dexterity with which he handled brake and control rod gave him pride. He had seated his sister on a bench out of the way, where she was protected from the drizzle and he felt her eyes upon him. It gave him a sense of importance to have Allie watching him at such a crisis; he wished his parents were with her.

He eased the brake and the massive bailer slid into the casing as a heavy shell slips into the breach of a cannon. As he further released his pressure, the cable began to pour serpentine from the drum. Buddy turned his wet, grimy face and flashed a grin at Allie. She smiled back at him faintly. Some lightning like change in her expression, or perhaps some occult sense of the untoward warned him that all was not as it should be, and he jerked his head back to attention.

During that moment of inattention the bailer had stuck. Perhaps five hundred feet below, friction had checked its plunge, and meanwhile the velvet-running drum spinning at its maximum velocity by reason of the whirling bull wheel, was unreeling its cable down upon the derrick platform. Down it poured in giant loops, and within these coils, either unconscious of his danger or paralyzed by its suddenness, stood Calvin Gray.

Instinct, rather than reason, warned Buddy not to check the blinding revolutions of the bull wheel. Without thought he leaped forward into the midst of those swirling forming loops, and as he landed upon the slippery floor he clenched his fist and struck with all the power he could put behind his massive arm. Gray's back was to him, the blow was like that of a walking beam, and it sent the elder man flying as a tennis ball is hurled ahead of a bowling ball. Buddy felt too. He went sprawling. As he slid across the muddy floor he felt the steel cable writhing under him like a thing alive, and the touch of it as it streamed into the well burned his flesh. He kicked and fought it as he would have fought the closing folds of a python, for the bailer was falling again and the wire loops were snaking as the coils in a whiplash vanish during its flight.

Buddy's booted legs were thrown high, he was tossed aside like a thing of paper, but blind half stunned, he scrambled back to his post. By this time the whole structure of the derrick was rocking to the mad gyrations of the bull wheel the giant spool was spinning with a speed that threatened to send it flying, like the fragments of a hursting bomb, but the youth understood dimly the danger of stopping it too suddenly—to fetch up the plunging weight at the cable end might snap the line, collapse the derrick, "jum" the well.

Buddy was dizzy on his trunks; nevertheless, his hand was steady, and he applied a gradually increasing pressure to the brake. Nor did he take his eyes from his task until the drum had ceased revolving and the runaway bailer hung motionless in the well.

They carried Gray to the bunk house, and his limbs hung loosely his head lolled in a manner terrifying to Buddy and his sister.

But Gray was not dead. Buddy's blow had well-nigh broken his neck, and he had suffered a further injury to his head in falling, nevertheless, he responded to such medical aid as they could supply, and in time he opened his eyes.

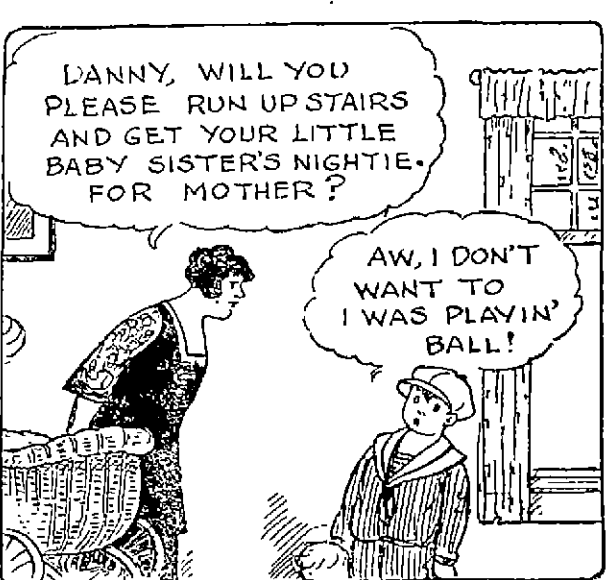

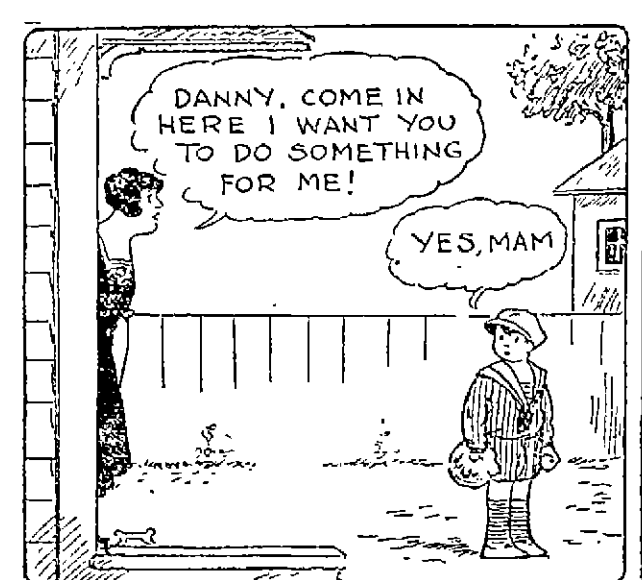

When for a second time he lapsed

BRAUTIGAN QUILTS TEAM AFTER FOND DU LAC BATTLE

Appleton Club Loses Manager; Gets Offer From Southwest Team

Slump In Finances Forces Local Magnates To Release Third Sacker When He Gets Offer From Salina Club

Manager Brautigan plays his last game with the Appleton State League club Sunday at Fond du Lac. The doughty third sacker has received an offer from the Salina club of the Southwest league, which will pay him considerably more than the magnates here are able to offer him, wherefore the powers that be have decided not to stand in the way of a good thing for him. It appears that rumors circulating about the poor financial standing of some of the teams on the State circuit are true after all, according to statements of Appleton managers. Harry Sylvester and the other owners of the local club have been in fear of releasing some of their more high priced players for some time owing to the poor attendance at recent games, but Brautigan had never been considered as one of the men who would go.

The loss of the veteran manager and infielder will be a severe blow to the Papernmakers, and one which will be difficult to replace. His work at third base has been excellent and he has always been known as one of McGillan's hardest hitters.

PITCHERS' BATTLE
Sunday's game with Fond du Lac will not be affected by Brautigan's shift as he intends to leave the day after, and assures the world that just because he is pulling a change of scene he will not slow down one iota in his last contest with the Red Sox. Both teams will have their regular lineup with the exception of the Fond du Lac pitcher, whose identity is not yet known. It is rumored, however, that Bill Lathrop will have a worthy opponent on the mound, as many Appleton fans plan on seeing the game in anticipation of a pitchers' duel. The game starts at 2:45 P. M.

ROD AND REEL

WIND DIRECTION AND FISHING

PART II

At any rate many lakes on account of the prevailing winds have built up a sandy or silted shore through the action of the wind blowing for ages in that direction and carrying the organic substances of the water toward it. This shore may be sand and afford a fine bathing beach but it will generally be a poor spot to cast over. On the other side of the lake, protected possibly by a hill, vegetation and trees creep to the very edge of the water carrying upon their branches and on the hillside a wonderful variety of fish food of every kind. This will undoubtedly be the favorite fishing ground in the lake and will yield all types of fish that are resident therein.

Now we come to the wind. Swirling the prevailing winds, by some supposing currents from the north or south are changed for a few days and said wind blows in an opposite direction over the sand beach, up the lake and head-on into the underbrush and trees on the far shore. It's a cinch that the fish food will not be blown into the lake and that the fish will not be looking for the food.

I deduced the above at a certain lake where Dixie and I were fishing some years ago and the results justified the stand we took with regard to the wind. Now comes the strange part of the whole affair and shows that when one is Sherlock Holmes that he should follow the clue until it runs to a point. The same poor fishing winds prevailed on the lake when we returned three days later and we were advised that the fishing had been poor during the first days or so and that the owner of the cabin had not fished the waters since, having been busy with clearing. We paddled over to the fishing grounds and with the wind still unfavorable as it had been for three days, each of us landed a fine string of small mouth bass, using the duck bass lure for casting. We figured "How come" for several days until finally through my benighted mind swept the answer to our troubles; and I woke Dixie up in the middle of the night to tell him.

QUESTIONS
ONE—Is there any way an umpire can hurry dilatory tactics on the part of the pitcher after he once gets on the rubber?
TWO—When can a pitcher who has been announced to start the game be removed from the box?

FOUR—If a pitcher while standing on the rubber snaps the ball to the third baseman without any preliminary step in the direction of the base, is it a balk?

BROOKLYN BEATS PHILLIES, 14-5 IN BATTING ORGY

Yanks Beat Mackmen In Second Game Of Series Despite Rally In Ninth

By Associated Press
Chicago—After a valiant ninth inning rally had given them three runs to tie the score, Connie Mack's Athletics dropped the second game of their series with the Yankees Friday when Ernie Johnson, a pinch hitter, cracked out a single with the bases full for the winning score.

While the Giants and Boston were idle because of rain, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh divided a doubleheader in their contest for second place in the Nationals. Luque added another victory to his list when he blanked the Pirates in the opener, but Bagby in the second game was superior to Benton, and Pittsburgh won.

Brooklyn staged a batting orgy against the humble Phillies and trounced them soundly, 14 to 5. The Robins annexed 25 hits, including 3 homers. The Phillies also hit hard, pounding Grimes for 14 blows, 3 for 4 bases.

Pitcher Kaufman helped to win his own game against the St. Louis Cardinals and was one of the two Chicago batsmen to pound out a homerun. The Cubs carried their early lead to a strong finish.

Outbit, the White Sox got the better of Cleveland after batting Coveleskie from the box. Cvegosors of the Sox gave way to Leverette in the fourth and he managed to keep the Indians well in hand.

Tr Cobb's Tigers, by a strong finish in the ninth, broke up the tie scores with a couple of runs and defeated St. Louis. Cole of Detroit, who gave way to Dauss aided his team to tie the score with a home run.

Mogridge of the Senators had the better of Ferguson of Boston, holding the invaders to five hits, and Washington won. It was a pitching duel throughout, Boston scoring its only run on Flagstead's homer.

The Nationals were credited with eight home runs to the Americans five for the day.

Jacques Fournier, formerly of the St. Louis Nationals, who strenuously objected to joining the Brooklyn Dodgers in playing a whirlwind game for the latter. He batted six times, getting a home run, two doubles and three singles Friday.

Joe Bush, New York Yankee pitcher, was spiked by shortstop Galloway while covering the plate, and may be out of the game for a few days.

Otto Vogel, now setting a tryout in right field with the Chicago Cubs, made a record with the western conference when he was a cleanup hitter on the University of Illinois nine. Vogel gave a good account of himself as a catcher, playing the initial sack, and the outfield. His home is in Davenport, Ia.

The Detroit Tigers have purchased Pitcher Gibson, a right hander, of the Danville club in the Piedmont league. Gibson was the property of the Charlotte club of the Atlantic association and is said to have cost the Detroit club $5,000.

Lou Blue, Detroit firstbaseman, who has been out of the game several days as the result of an injury received in a game at the Yankee stadium, will rejoin the Tigers in Cleveland.

Final $100,000 Raised For Shelby Fight Fest

Twenty Montana Men Agree To Give $5,000 Each For "Honor Of State"

Great Falls, Mont.—The Jack Dempsey-Tom Gibbons heavyweight championship fight, twice threatened with collapse within the last two weeks, because of financial crisis, has cleared the last hurdle, and will be decided in Shelby on July 4, as scheduled.

The final $100,000 of Dempsey's $300,000 guarantee was raised Friday night from twenty influential business men of the state, who pledged $5,000 each.

George H. Stanton, president of the Stanton Trust and Savings bank, who personally advanced $50,000 ten days ago, made the positive announcement that the final installment had been raised and that it would be available in cash not later than Saturday night.

Mr. Stanton said that the money, however, would not be turned over to Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, until Monday, the date on which the payment falls due.

FOR HONOR OF MONTANA
The raising of the $100,000 is one of the most remarkable financing achievements in the history of glove fighting. After all plans had failed, Mr. Stanton conceived the idea of appealing to twenty men throughout the state, most of them life long friends, to give what he termed the honor of Montana, meaning the heavyweight championship battle at Shelby.

Going into a conference with R. E. Ayers, a former circuit judge of Livingston, and Maj. J. E. Lane, in a hotel room, Stanton and his associates began the task of sending out

Quinn And Nuss Come To Appleton Sunday To Finish Training

All Contracts In And Forfeits Posted—Training Quarters Will Be In Lawrence Gymnasium And Armory G

Preparations for the Independence day fight card here are practically completed. Walter H. Ligenger, chairman of the United States Boxing board, and recently appointed secretary of the State Athletic Commission of Wisconsin, has notified all concerned that all the contracts are in and the forfeits posted.

Both Gunner Joe Quinn and Jimmy Nuss will arrive here either Sunday or Monday. Mike Gibbons has wired that his protegee, Quinn, is ready to leave St. Paul Saturday, and requests that suitable training quarters be provided for him. Nuss has telephoned that he would start his training here not later than Monday morning. Arrangements will probably be made to establish training quarters for one of the boys in Lawrence gymnasium, and the other will be accommodated in the armory.

Talk about town indicates that a record breaking crowd will be on hand July 4, to see one of the greatest battles ever held in this city. Both fighters have followers here, but owing to Nuss' popularity and better acquaintance in this locality, he has a slight edge on the Gunner in popularity. The big, 30-round card, in addition to the fact that the fans will get the results of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight hot off the wire are making this part of the Legion program the most interesting.

Tickets are going fast. DePere requested a big block Friday, showing great interest in the activities of their representative. Other cities have all so put in orders, and Promoter Johnson states that Appleton fans who are waiting to buy their tickets at the eleventh hour are likely to be out of luck.

What is the difference in scoring in medal and match play in golf? Have players the right to concede a putt in medal play?

In match play you win a hole if you make it in fewer strokes than your opponent. Since the result is decided on the number of holes won, the total score for your round is not important. It is not compulsory to play out a hole if you feel that you are certain to lose it. You can end the play for that hole by simply conceding it to your opponent. It is entirely different in medal play, where your scoring must be continuous from the first tee until the last green and you must have a score for every hole. A player has no right to concede a putt in medal play, it being compulsory to sink the putt in every case.

Getting on the green on his third shot, the player making same discovers that his ball is lodged against the flagstick in the hole. How should such a situation be handled?

The flagstick must be carefully removed in order to permit the ball to roll in, if the flagstick has prevented such a happening. If the ball does not fall into the cup, it calls for another putt. If the ball had dropped in when the flagstick had been removed it would have saved another stroke.

THE INTERPRETATION
The two plays are interpreted differently.

In the first play in which the umpire interfered with the catcher, who was making a throw to second base, the ball immediately becomes dead and no bases can be run. The runner who went to third should have been sent back to first.

In the other play where the field umpire was hit by a throw from the outfield, the ball is considered in play and the runner on first who scored and the batsman who reached third were so entitled to advance.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS
To our way of thinking it remained for the attorney-general of Nevada to assure the big fight at Shelby on July Fourth. He has come to bat with the statement that if the Dempsey-Gibbons affair fixed out like a bad firecracker, ticket money would be returned to the purchasers. In other words, the coin given to the Dempsey-Kearns combination would have to be returned.

The State leaguers will be swatting the pill again Sunday and more changes in the percentage table are looked for as the teams are so closely bunched that a single victory or upset changes the complexion of the pennant hunt in the McGillan wheel.

Intercollegiate rowing honors were carried off by the University of Washington crew at the Poughkeepsie regatta. These westerners invaded the east with all odds against them but when it came to a final show down they were able to dip their blades just a bit faster than the wonderful Navy crew which in turn had quite a lead on the rest of the field. It is the first time in intercollegiate rowing history the championship has been captured by a crew of the Pacific coast.

From now on Red Melzer will have a good chance to display his speed or possibly change of space. The spectacular hurler of the Neenah-Menasha Pails has been named as motor cop in the city of Menasha and when he is not on the baseball field, he will be gliding over the highways chasing the motorists who step along faster than the law allows.

NEENAH NET CLUB MAY JOIN LEAGUE

Twin City Tennis Organization Meets To Decide On Fox River Tourney

The Neenah Tennis club is the first to respond to the efforts of Physical Director A. P. Jensen of the Appleton Y. M. C. A. to organize a Fox River valley tennis league. Before his departure for four weeks of summer school at Lake Geneva, Jensen sent cards to various neighboring cities, proposing tennis tournaments to be held at these towns. Acting upon this suggestion, officials of the Neenah club will hold a meeting Monday evening to decide upon the advisability of entering the league, and also to make preparations and drawings for the handicap trophy tournament which is to be held by their organization. The two who have stuck to the end of the preliminaries are Elmer Mielke and Fred Whitpen. This brace of stars will meet with ball and racket this week to decide the championship, and will have a prominent part in the meets with other cities which will join Jensen's league.

Puzzling Plays
By Billy Evans

THE PLAY
The umpire is never supposed to interfere with play.

There are times, despite every effort to get out of the way that the umpire butts in.

In a minor league game these two plays came up, the umpire each time being the central figure.

There is a runner on first. He starts to steal second. The umpire working back of the catcher is standing close. As the catcher starts to throw, his arm comes into contact with the umpire's protector. The throw is bad and the runner goes to third.

A few innings later, with a runner on first, the batsman singles to right field. The runner on first elects to try for third. The throw to that base hits the base umpire and the ball is deflected into the outfield. The runner on first scores, while the batsman reaches third.

What was the proper ruling in each play?

In the first play in which the umpire interfered with the catcher, who was making a throw to second base, the ball immediately becomes dead and no bases can be run. The runner who went to third should have been sent back to first.

People Stick To Tastes When They Buy Records

Does mother, dad or the children buy the records for the family? It seems rather hard to tell, but one thing is very evident, according to the local music dealers. It is the fact that it often takes the whole family and sometimes part of the relationship to decide upon certain numbers. If mother or dad do happen into a music store and listen to a few records, the parents decide to take some home the youngsters usually exchange them for others. In that case it seems, the children are doing the choosing although dad probably furnishes the cash.

People have different ways of choosing their records. Those who buy quantities of popular numbers usually get the hits as they are released. In the case of the classical numbers, the set favoritism influences many people to choose certain records, because these buyers have an appreciation for the work of certain artists. However it is also surprising to note, according to the dealers, how great a number of people like some pieces by an artist and not others. To such a person, an artist's favoritism doesn't influence the choice of records because he will take only the selection he really cares for. Others will buy a record just because a favorite artist sings or plays it.

Look How the Rent Piles Up

Suppose you are paying but $35 a month rent. Do you realize that this small monthly sum, with 6 per cent interest added, equals $2,500 in five years, or $5,568.08 in 10 years? If you are paying $100 a month rent you spend $7,170.40 in five years or $18,766.08 in 10 years.

Why put all of this money in someone else's pocket? Stop paying toll to a landlord for a shelter for yourself and family. Do what thousands of others are doing—build your own home.

VALLEY GUERNSEY PICNIC SCHEDULED JULY 18 AT VINLAND

Amundsen Will Be On Program
At Farm Of John Harness And Son

Fox River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association will hold its annual picnic this year at the farm of John Harness and son, in the town of Vinland, just south of Neenah. The date, although not final, probably will be July 18. It is the first picnic of the association to be held in Winnebago co.

Breeders from Outagamie, Brown, Calumet and Winnebago counties make up the membership of the association. While efforts are being made to secure a good outside speaker, the officers plan to devote most of the time to genuine picnic stunts.

Robert Amundsen, agricultural agent of Outagamie co. will be on the program and will present "Guernsey Cartoons." The tentative program was planned by the picnic committee, which met at the home of W. G. Jamison and son, Greenville.

The picnic will start in the morning. A community picnic lunch will take place at noon. In the afternoon there will be on the program, besides Mr. Amundsen, some outside speaker of note, a tug-of-war between the breeders of the different counties, as well as other contests and races. Ice cream will be furnished by the association.

Queen Candidates Eager To Get 1,000 Free Votes

Candidates for election as legion queen in the county-wide popularity contest are scrambling to get the 1,000 free votes offered to the first young woman to turn in $100 in the campaign. Miss Esther Ashman, Appleton, increased her lead in the race when she reported sale of 5,600 votes. Miss Edna Snell still is in second place with 3,950 votes. It is believed some of the contestants are holding back votes for a last minute showing.

Preparations for crowning the queen at the dance on the night of July 3 are going ahead. The crowning ceremony will be one of the features of the opening of the celebration. The queen at that time will receive a diamond ring worth $100 and the young women ranking second and third in the contest also will receive rings. All three winners will ride in the parade on July 4 and will be accorded special honors during the celebration.

Standings of the candidates follow: Esther Ashman, Appleton, 5,600; Edna Snell, Seymour, 3,950; Ruth Johnson, Appleton, 2,000; Marie Kamps, Appleton, 1,687; Elsie Rohloff, Black Creek, 1,300; Pauline Hoffman, Appleton, 1,200; Eleanor Vaughan, New London, 550.

Clara Zocholl, Black Creek, 650; Bonnie Dean, Seymour, 645; Pauline Stammer, Seymour, 375; Ellen Dunn, Seymour, 250; Veronica Milhaupt, Appleton, 105; Ruth Lacy, Appleton, 100; Esther Behl, Appleton, 100.

ON THE SCREEN

"SKYFIRE"

The aurora borealis which has hitherto defied successful photography has been woven into the plot of a photoplay which will be seen at the Elite theatre on Sunday only.

The picture is called "Skyfire" with Neal Hart known as "America's Pal" in its star.

The scene is laid in the Canadian Northwest and the action is said to be rapid and thrilling. Neal Hart will be seen as Barr Conroy, a Northwest Mounted Police officer.

The picture is a very recent release and the camera work by which the shimmering glow of the Northern Lights is shown on the screen is said to mark an important step forward in motion picture photography. The legends and traditions of the Chipewyan tribe of Indians, based on the occasional appearance of the aurora in the northern skies have been utilized as the underlying theme of the story. And as a special added attraction, Charlie Chaplin will be seen in a revival of his greatest and most laughable 3 act comedy, "Shoulder Arms."

"THE ISLE OF LOST SHIPS"

IS REplete WITH THRILLS
Milton Sills, Anna Q. Nilsson, Frank Campeau and Walter Long are the principal members of the cast of "The Isle of Lost Ships," a First National attraction produced by M. C. Levee and personally directed by Maurice Tourneur, which will be the feature at the Elite theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It is based on Crittenden Marriot's famous drama of the sea. The remainder of the cast likewise leaves nothing to be desired. Milton Sills, as the escaped convict—facing death in the electric chair—who saves the life of the beautiful young society girl when the vessel on which he is being taken back to the United States is rammed by a derelict gives his customary strong characterization.

Miss Nilsson, as the heroine who finds herself compelled to marry within twenty-four hours, has a strenuous role which she enacts with skill and finesse.

Frank Campeau as the indomitable detective and Walter Long as the powerful and arrogant ruler of the little community of castaways on a strange island of ships in the center of the Sargasso Sea are exceptionally well drawn roles.

Bert Woodroof and Aggie Herring, as Patrick and Mother Joyce, furnish exceedingly delightful comedy bits.

Director Tourneur, with the poetic touch that identifies all his pictures has given this unusual story of the Sargasso Sea picturesquely beautiful settings. Getting off to a fast start, "The Isle of Lost Ships" is replete with thrills and unusual situations galore one of the episodes showing the little band of castaways escaping

MAKES LOVE TO DRIVER

Friday afternoon College ave. was the scene of unusual love making in which the man was drunk and the lady much embarrassed. We saw the man come out of a saloon and cross the street. His progress was blocked by a car in which a lady was the driver. The "drunk" stood there a minute and immediately placed one hand on his heart and outstretched the other in the attitude of a melodrama hero declaring his love. He said something to the driver, who flushed and turned away from him as she stepped on the accelerator and sped away. The man looked a little stunned and then started for the nearest saloon.

SIZE AND SPEED SOUGHT

Size and speed are the factors being developed in the construction of new radio stations throughout the world.

As to size, it has been found that various interferences—static and otherwise—have a pronounced effect on the stations. For example, the great station atop the municipal building in New York, established by the city, has practically been abandoned, because it was not strong enough to overcome the interference projected by the large steel structure surrounding it.

Now another broadcasting station, larger than any ever constructed, will soon try to send its messages and concerts from the roof of one of New York's skyscrapers. Yet, its builders may find that even this may not succeed in overcoming the interference of the tall city structures.

From San Francisco comes word that the most powerful radio station in the world is being planned for Oakland, across the bay. It is to be built by the General Electric company and is planned to have power enough to cross the Pacific and the equator with its radio flashes.

Speed already is being attained through the use of various mechanical instruments in connection with transmission and reception of messages. More than 100 words a minute can be sent through an instrument in use at Washington, and a speed of 55 words a minute has been attained for reception.

This speed is slow compared with what experimenters hope to attain.
